Only those left who truly wish to create “fine art” would pursue their craft. The rest would abandon their craft once money and fame is take out of the equation. Only those whose chase art for art's sake would be left standing. Only those who are not in it for the “fame or money” would be left standing. The ETs strip the Primary Energy or “Dark Matter/Energy” from the captured electrons to run their UFOs. This is just one of the many infinite power sources that they exploit to run their tech.
